

Brookdale Senior Living Center
Located in West Hartford, Connecticut

THE CHALLENGE

Assisted living facilities have become a fast growing market with significant needs and requirements. Brookdale Senior Living facility needed an energy efficient HVAC system that was cost effective and not obtrusive to its residents.

THE SOLUTION

A Variable Refrigerant System offered Brookdale a variety of capabilities and benefits including:

- Increased flexibility in diversity
- Tenant billing based on usage - eliminating the need for individual power meters
- Enhanced energy efficient solution versus mini splits
- Less piping used in design
- System redundancy

- Simplified and cost effective maintenance schedule
- Eliminated excess equipment on exterior of building - reducing installation costs and simplifying the design
- Provided the ability for WI-FI access to the equipment
- Simplified electrical design and decreased electrical requirements
- Increased heating capabilities during the winter months
- Increased race of system diagnostics and protective features

In addition, by installing the Variable Refrigerant System the senior living center provided energy efficiency and increased comfort to its residents.
